

IC253 - Further Place Allocations for the World Laser Masters 2009.

03 December 2008

Further place allocations for the World Laser Masters 2009 have now been calculated. Due to the high number of unused allocated places and an increase in the entry limit to 400 sailors, more allocated places will be issued to the countries with requests for more places than presently available, as listed in the attached pdf. All places will be offered for entry to sailors by email over the next two days except where countries have already given a late qualification and ranking date.

As further places become available they will be issued to waiting sailors from the middle of January 2009.

It is hoped that the continual re-allocation of extra places will provide sufficient entry for all sailors wishing to attend the 2009 Laser Masters Championship.

If you need any further assistance please contact the ILCA Office.
